Section 1 – Administration

1.1. History

Policy Effective Date: 6/14/2024

The first library in Pickaway County was incorporated by the Legislature on February 28, 1834 as the Circleville Athenaeum. Although the books were eventually scattered and lost, the Pickaway Lyceum flourished from 1845 until 1851. A Magazine Club was then begun, which also collected books and became a circulating library. In 1869 a YMCA was established which contained a magazine reading-room and some books, and the books eventually became part of a subscription library. The Trustees of that Library Association donated the library to the city on January 17, 1873, and the circulating library also donated their books to the city.

Circleville Public Library opened on July 1, 1873 with a collection of 974 volumes in the Odd Fellows Hall. In 1892, the library moved into Memorial Hall at the corner of Main and Pickaway streets with a 99-year lease. The Circleville Public Library became the Pickaway County District Public Library in 1949.

The library's first branch was opened December 16, 1999, in Ashville. The family of the late Floyd E. Younkin worked with community leaders from the Teays Valley Civic Association to make the facility a reality. The 5,000-square-foot facility includes collection items, public computers, and a public meeting room.

In 1994, the library Board purchased the former Ames building at 1160 North Court Street. While the financial resources were not immediately available to renovate the facility, the Board agreed to lease 17,000 square feet of the 46,000-square-foot building to Berger Health System in 1998.

Formal fund-raising efforts for the "Main Move" began in 2001. On January 6, 2003, the main library moved into its new facility on Court Street in Circleville. More than 6,200 people came through the doors that first week. The library had been closed for more than four weeks to facilitate moving more than 100,000 volumes to a new facility.

In 2010, Berger Health System returned approximately 8,000 square feet of its leased space at 1170 N. Court Street back to the library so the main library could expand to add a teen center, a computer lab, additional meeting rooms and an enlarged children's area. The expansion was completed in May 2011 and was funded by the generous donations from the estates of Mary Joanne Clifton and Mary Virginia Crites-Hannan.

Berger Health System, now OhioHealth Berger Hospital, elected not to renew its lease and on October 1, 2021, returned the remaining approximately 9,000 square feet of its leased space at 1170 N. Court Street to the library. On January 3, 2022, the library entered into a twenty-five year lease with Pickaway County Community Foundation (PCCF) for the vacated 1170 N. Court Street space, with the caveat that the space could only be used for children and family educational purposes. In early 2024, PCCF began construction on Inspiration Station, a STEM learning facility and children's museum.

1.2.1. Public Participation

Policy Effective Date: 1/12/2024

The Board of Trustees of the Pickaway County Library (Board) welcomes public input in its deliberations. The Board further recognizes the importance of public comments on issues before the Board and the ability of members of the community to express their views on matters of interest to the Library.

Any individual or group wishing to speak at a Board meeting must contact the Fiscal Officer by email or phone, at least 24 hours prior to the Board meeting to be placed on the agenda. Procedures for special meetings are at the discretion of the Board. Speakers must reside in Pickaway County and must provide the following written information:

- Name, address, and phone number of the person requesting to speak.
- The subject or issue on which they wish to speak.

The Board is committed to conducting its meetings in a civil, orderly, efficient, and productive manner designed to allow the Board's regular agenda to be completed in a reasonable period of time, while allowing a fair and adequate opportunity for public input to be considered.

Consequently, public participation at Board meetings will be governed by the following principles:

- 1) Public participation at Board meetings is limited to the public comment portion of the meeting as indicated by the agenda. At all other times during a Board meeting, only the President of the Board (or presiding officer) may ask a member of the public to speak. Interruptions by the public will not be permitted. Board and committee meetings are not public hearings.
- 2) Persons wishing to address the Board must be physically present and register their names, addresses, and topics on the attendance sheet, which will be provided at the meetings. Speakers must fill out the attendance sheet before they are recognized.
- 3) Each person addressing the Board is generally limited to three (3) minutes. This time limit may be modified at the discretion of the Board to ensure an orderly and productive meeting.
- 4) The number of speakers on any given topic may be limited to three (3) in opposition and three (3) in support of each item, at the discretion of the President (or other presiding officer). Individuals addressing the board may only be recognized once per meeting.
- 5) Persons addressing the Board, and all members of the public in attendance at a Board meeting, are expected to observe a level of civility and decorum appropriate for a public meeting, and refrain from vulgar, profane, or harassing remarks. The President of the Board (or other presiding officer) may terminate any presentation deemed not to follow these standards.

Failure to adhere to these principles may result in removal from the meeting.

1.3. Public Records

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

The Pickaway County District Public Library shall comply with Ohio Revised Code 149.43, Ohio's Public Records Law. Ohio's Public Records Law generally provides that upon request all public records responsive to the request, and not specifically excluded from disclosure, shall be promptly prepared and made available for inspection to any person at all reasonable times during regular business hours. If it is found that this policy conflicts with any federal, state or local law, the law shall take precedence.

I. Public Records

The library shall, by any means practical, contact the requestor and advise them that advance payment is required prior to providing copies of public records via the United States Mail System, and in addition, the fee shall also include the cost of postage and the envelope.
 - i. When practical, the library may forward copied records by any other means reasonably acceptable to the requestor.

IV. Ambiguous or Overly Broad Request for Public Records

- a. If a requestor makes an ambiguous or overly broad request or has difficulty in making a request for copies or inspection of public records such that the library cannot reasonably identify what public records are being requested, the library may deny the request, but shall provide the requestor with an opportunity to revise the request by informing the requestor of the manner in which records are maintained by the library and accessed.

V. Denial of Records Request

- a. If a request is ultimately denied, in part or whole, the library shall provide the requestor with an explanation, including legal authority, setting forth why the request was denied. If portions of a record are public and portions are exempt, the exempt portions will be redacted and the rest released.

VI. Exempted and/or Excluded Information

1.5. Purchasing

Policy Effective Date: 10/10/2025

I. Overview of Policy

- a. This policy is meant to be general in nature and, in situations where purchases or expenditures are covered by more specific Board policy, the more detailed and specific policy shall take precedence.
- b. Library administration shall have the authority to make all necessary purchases for the library, without first obtaining Board approval, if the money has been appropriated and the purchase is authorized within this policy.
- c. If it is found that this policy conflicts with any federal, state or local law, the law shall take precedence.

II. Guidelines for Purchasing

a. Budgeting

- i. Purchases may be made when the library Board has appropriated funds for a specific purpose or a general budget has been allocated for library operations. The purchasing process begins with the preparation of either the temporary and/or annual budget.

b. Bids and Quotes

- i. Bidding is covered by Ohio Revised Code Section 3375.41. A formal bidding process is required for purchases above the bidding threshold amount specified in section 9.17 of the Ohio Revised Code within the parameters described.
- ii. Section 3375.41 applies to permanent improvements and usually does not apply to items such as computers, motor vehicles, furnishings, and equipment unless these items are a part of a total building project that exceeds the bidding threshold amount specified in section 9.17 of the Ohio Revised Code.
- iii. Rules laid out in ORC 153.65-153.71 may apply to the purchase of professional design services.

c. Contracts

- i. The director or director's designee is authorized to negotiate contracts or agreements for the purchase or lease of goods or services for the library.

d. Purchase Orders

- i. All expenditures of library funds generally require a purchase order. A purchase order represents the library's agreement to pay funds for goods or services described in the purchase order.
- ii. The fiscal office may issue blanket purchase orders for specific permitted purposes for any amount (unless competitive bidding requirements apply) not to exceed the line-item appropriation and fund. Permitted purposes include most professional services such as accountants, architects, attorneys, consultants, construction project managers, and engineers; and any other specific recurring and reasonably predictable operating expenses such as fuel, office supplies, postage stamps and shipping, utilities, building and equipment maintenance & repairs, vehicle parts and service, and collection materials. Blanket purchase orders may not extend beyond the fiscal year and more than one blanket purchase order may be outstanding at a particular time for any line item appropriation.
- iii. Purchase Order approval by the fiscal officer certifies that the expense is legal, that funds have been previously appropriated by the Board of Trustees, and that monies are either available or in the process of being collected prior to signing.

- iv. Encumbered but unexpended purchase orders may be carried over to the library's next budget year.
- e. Emergency Spending
 - i. Prior formal approval of the Board of Trustees is required for contracts for professional services that exceed the bidding threshold amount specified in section 9.17 of the Ohio Revised Code or that cause an overage in the budgeted line item except in cases of emergency or where the security and protection of library property, patrons, or staff is threatened. The director shall, at the next meeting of the Board thereafter, render a full report of all the circumstances and of their actions in the case of the emergency.
- f. Improper Purchasing
 - i. The Board may disclaim responsibility and liability for any expenditure or contractual agreement in its name by an unauthorized person or any person acting outside this Policy. The expense of any such disclamation will become the personal liability of the individual who acted improperly.

III. Credit Card Use

- a. This credit card use policy follows a Compliance Officer model from the auditor of state's office.
- b. The use of any credit card, including all payment cards or payment instruments associated with a credit account issued by a financial institution or retailer, is not intended to avoid or bypass appropriate purchasing or payment procedures. Purchases made via credit card are subject to the same policy standards as purchases made via purchase order.
 - i. Cards are not to be used for personal use under any circumstances.
 - ii. The library will not obtain or maintain any debit cards.
- c. Reasonable efforts should be made to limit the use of library credit cards except when in the interest of business efficiency, as required by vendors, or emergency situations.
- d. Credit cards can be used for in-store purchases as well as for mail, on-line, or fax expenditures for Board-approved or library-related goods or services.

2.2.2. Library Bill of Rights

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

I. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.

II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.

III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.

IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.

V. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.

VI. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

Adopted June 19, 1939, by the ALA Council; amended October 14, 1944; June 18, 1948; February 2, 1961; June 27, 1967; January 23, 1980; inclusion of "age" reaffirmed January 23, 1996.

2.2.3. Freedom to Read

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties, and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

This statement was originally issued in May of 1953 by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association and the American Book Publishers Council, which in 1970 consolidated with the American Educational Publishers Institute to become the Association of American Publishers.

Adopted June 25, 1953, by the ALA Council and the AAP Freedom to Read Committee; amended January 28, 1972; January 16, 1991; July 12, 2000; June 30, 2004.

2.2.4. Freedom to View

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

The FREEDOM TO VIEW, along with the freedom to speak, to hear, and to read, is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In a free society, there is no place for censorship of any medium of expression. Therefore these principles are affirmed:

1. To provide the broadest access to film, video, and other audiovisual materials because they are a means for the communication of ideas. Liberty of circulation is essential to insure the constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression.
2. To protect the confidentiality of all individuals and institutions using film, video, and other audiovisual materials.
3. To provide film, video, and other audiovisual materials which represent a diversity of views and expression. Selection of a work does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of the content.
4. To provide a diversity of viewpoints without the constraint of labeling or prejudging film, video, or other audiovisual materials on the basis of the moral, religious, or political beliefs of the producer or filmmaker or on the basis of controversial content.
5. To contest vigorously, by all lawful means, every encroachment upon the public's freedom to view.

This statement was originally drafted by the Freedom to View Committee of the American Film and Video Association (formerly the Educational Film Library Association) and was adopted by the AFVA Board of Directors in February 1979. This statement was updated and approved by the AFVA Board of Directors in 1989.

Endorsed January 10, 1990, by the ALA Council

Introduction

Freedom of expression is an inalienable human right and the foundation for self-government. Freedom of expression encompasses the freedom of speech and the corollary right to receive information.¹ Libraries and librarians protect and promote these rights by selecting, producing, providing access to, identifying, retrieving, organizing, providing instruction in the use of, and preserving recorded expression regardless of the format or technology.

The American Library Association expresses these basic principles of librarianship in its Code of Ethics and in the Library Bill of Rights and its Interpretations. These serve to guide librarians and library governing bodies in addressing issues of intellectual freedom that arise when the library provides access to electronic information, services, and networks.

Libraries empower users by providing access to the broadest range of information. Electronic resources, including information available via the Internet, allow libraries to fulfill this responsibility better than ever before.

Issues arising from digital generation, distribution, and retrieval of information need to be approached and regularly reviewed from a context of constitutional principles and ALA policies so that fundamental and traditional tenets of librarianship are not swept away.

Electronic information flows across boundaries and barriers despite attempts by individuals, governments, and private entities to channel or control it. Even so, many people lack access or capability to use electronic information effectively.

In making decisions about how to offer access to electronic information, each library should consider its mission, goals, objectives, cooperative agreements, and the needs of the entire community it serves.

The Rights of Users

All library system and network policies, procedures, or regulations relating to electronic information and services should be scrutinized for potential violation of user rights.

User policies should be developed according to the policies and guidelines established by the American Library Association, including Guidelines for the Development and Implementation of Policies, Regulations and Procedures Affecting Access to Library Materials, Services and Facilities.

Users' access should not be restricted or denied for expressing or receiving constitutionally protected speech. If access is restricted or denied for behavioral or other reasons, users should be provided due process, including, but not limited to, formal notice and a means of appeal.

Information retrieved or utilized electronically is constitutionally protected unless determined otherwise by a court of law with appropriate jurisdiction. These rights extend to minors as well as adults (Free Access to Libraries for Minors; Access to Resources and Services in the School Library Media Program; Access for Children and Young Adults to Nonprint Materials).²

Libraries should use technology to enhance, not deny, access to information. Users have the right to be free of unreasonable limitations or conditions set by libraries, librarians, system administrators, vendors, network service providers, or others. Contracts, agreements, and licenses entered into by libraries on behalf of their users should not violate this right. Libraries should provide library users the training and assistance necessary to find, evaluate, and use information effectively.

Users have both the right of confidentiality and the right of privacy. The library should uphold these rights by policy, procedure, and practice in accordance with Privacy: An Interpretation of the Library Bill of Rights.

Equity of Access

The Internet provides expanding opportunities for everyone to participate in the information society, but too many individuals face serious barriers to access. Libraries play a critical role in bridging information access gaps for these individuals. Libraries also ensure that the public can find content of interest and learn the necessary skills to use information successfully.

Electronic information, services, and networks provided directly or indirectly by the library should be equally, readily and equitably accessible to all library users. American Library Association policies oppose the charging of user fees for the provision of information services by libraries that receive their major support from public funds (50.3 Free Access to Information; 53.1.14 Economic Barriers to Information Access; 60.1.1 Minority Concerns Policy Objectives; 61.1 Library Services for the Poor Policy Objectives). All libraries should develop policies concerning access to electronic information that are consistent with ALA's policy statements, including Economic Barriers to Information Access: An Interpretation of the Library Bill of Rights, Guidelines for the Development and Implementation of Policies, Regulations and Procedures Affecting Access to Library Materials, Services and Facilities, and Resolution on Access to the Use of Libraries and Information by Individuals with Physical or Mental Impairment.

Information Resources and Access

Providing connections to global information, services, and networks is not the same as selecting and purchasing materials for a library collection. Determining the accuracy or authenticity of electronic information may present special problems. Some information accessed electronically may not meet a library's selection or collection development policy. It is, therefore, left to each user to determine what is appropriate. Parents and legal guardians who are concerned about their children's use of electronic resources should provide guidance to their own children.

Libraries, acting within their mission and objectives, must support access to information on all subjects that serve the needs or interests of each user, regardless of the user's age or the content of the material. In order to preserve the cultural record and to prevent the loss of information, libraries may need to expand their selection or collection development policies to ensure preservation, in appropriate formats, of information obtained electronically. Libraries have an obligation to provide access to government information available in electronic format.

Libraries and librarians should not deny or limit access to electronic information because of its allegedly controversial content or because of the librarian's personal beliefs or fear of confrontation. Furthermore, libraries and librarians should not deny access to electronic information solely on the grounds that it is perceived to lack value.

Publicly funded libraries have a legal obligation to provide access to constitutionally protected information. Federal, state, county, municipal, local, or library governing bodies sometimes require the use of Internet filters or other technological measures that block access to constitutionally protected information, contrary to the Library Bill of Rights (ALA Policy Manual, 53.1.17, Resolution on the Use of Filtering Software in Libraries). If a library uses a technological measure that blocks access to information, it should be set at the least restrictive level in order to minimize the blocking of constitutionally protected speech. Adults retain the right to access all constitutionally protected information and to ask for the technological measure to be disabled in a timely manner. Minors also retain the right to access constitutionally protected information and, at the minimum, have the right to ask the library or librarian to provide access to erroneously blocked information in a timely manner. Libraries and librarians have an obligation to inform users of these rights and to provide the means to exercise these rights.³

Electronic resources provide unprecedented opportunities to expand the scope of information available to users. Libraries and librarians should provide access to information presenting all points of view. The provision of access does not imply sponsorship or endorsement. These principles pertain to electronic resources no less than they do to the more traditional sources of information in libraries (Diversity in Collection Development).

2.3.1. Patron Code of Conduct

Policy Effective Date: 6/14/2024

Pickaway County Library encourages the use of its facilities for learning, enrichment, and use of the library's resources and services. To preserve that opportunity, we ask patrons to be respectful of each other and staff, and to behave in a manner that does not disrupt other patrons or staff. The rules of public behavior are posted in the library. All library staff are authorized to bring to an individual's attention any act or omission that violates these rules.

2.4.1. Suspension of Library Privileges and Eviction

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

A patron who has violated the library's code of conduct (See policy 2.3.1 Patron Code of Conduct) may be evicted from the library and refused further admission to the library for a set time. The following are intended as a guide for staff enforcement of the patron code of conduct. Serious infractions (including but not limited to willful maliciousness towards patrons or staff, or when posing an immediate threat to patrons, staff, or property) may result in immediate eviction.

I. Violation of the patron code of conduct

- a. Library staff will notify the patron of unacceptable behavior.
- b. If the behavior continues, staff will notify the patron that if further unacceptable behavior continues they will be asked to leave.
- c. Upon a third violation, the patron is asked to leave for the day. An incident report should be completed and given to library administration.
 - i. The library director or their designee may determine, based upon repeated violation of the patron code of conduct or the severity of the violation, that an extended eviction period should be enforced.

II. Eviction

- a. The director or their designee shall evict patrons for violations of the patron code of conduct.
 - i. When possible, the patron will be supplied with a written notice of eviction including the reason and period of eviction.
 1. Notices regarding the barring of a minor patron from the library will be sent to the minor patron's parent or legal guardian.

III. Appeal of Eviction

- a. The library recognizes the patron's right to contest the eviction. The patron may provide a written request to appeal their eviction to the director within 48 hours of the eviction being issued.
- b. The director may consider any of several factors when deciding to reinstate library privileges including:
 - i. the details of the incident that led to the suspension
 - ii. the length of time since the initial eviction and suspension
 - iii. the patron's completion of any requirements imposed by the court as a result of the incident
 - iv. any other information provided by the patron that suggests that he or she is unlikely to engage in the conduct that led to the suspensions of privileges
- c. Decisions of the director may be appealed to the Board via written notice.
 - i. Decisions of the Board will be considered final.

2.5.1. Unattended Minors

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

Library staff cannot act in loco parentis, nor act as caregiver or babysitter. The library and library staff are not responsible for problems resulting from children being left unattended. To provide for the general safety of children:

- I. All children under 10 years of age must be accompanied by an adult or responsible caregiver who is at least 12 years of age.
- II. When a child under 10 years of age appears to be lost or unattended, library staff will immediately try to locate a parent, legal guardian, or responsible caregiver in the library and/or by phone. Staff will stay with the child while the search is in progress. If a parent, legal guardian, or responsible caregiver cannot be located, staff will contact the police department for assistance.
- III. Children aged 10 and older may use the library unattended, subject to the rules and regulations of the library. If an unattended minor is asked to leave library property due to behavior and is lacking transportation or a safe place to go, staff will attempt to contact the parents, legal guardians, or a responsible caregiver to have the child picked up. If unable to pick up the child or if staff is unable to reach someone, the police department will be contacted for assistance.
- IV. Parents and legal guardians should realize that, even in their absence, they are legally responsible for the behavior of their children.
- V. Minors who are unattended and lacking transportation at closing time will be asked for telephone numbers of people who can pick them up at the library. If unsuccessful, the police department will be contacted for assistance. Under no circumstances shall staff take a child out of the building.

2.6.1. Registration, Loan Rules, and Reserves

Policy Effective Date: 10/11/2024

I. Library Card Registration for Adults

- a. Anyone 18 or older who resides in Ohio and agrees by signature to be responsible for materials loaned may register for a library card after the presentation of a photo ID and proof of current residential address.
 - i. Acceptable forms of a photo ID include:
 1. Driver's license
 2. State ID card
 3. Passport
 - ii. Acceptable methods of address verification include:
 1. Driver's license

II. Library Card Registration for Minors

- a. Parents or legal guardians of minors (those 17 years of age or younger) must sign a document stating they agree to be financially responsible for the materials borrowed by their children for Full Access or Restricted card types.
 - i. The parent or guardian's name must be entered on the minor's account
 - ii. The parent or guardian's address must be entered for the minor's account
 - iii. The minor must be present at the time of registration
- b. The library cannot act in loco parentis (in place of the parent), and generally will not restrict access to materials based upon age except as described in the Restricted card type or for administrative purposes (e.g. special collections of high historical or monetary value). Please see policy 2.2.2 Library Bill of Rights. Parents who wish to prevent their children from accessing certain material types or content types are responsible for monitoring their children's browsing and borrowing activities; library staff will not restrict access beyond the rules set forth for the Restricted card types.
- c. Parents or legal guardians will be provided with two levels of access for the minor's card: Minor Full Access or Restricted. See Types of Accounts below.

III. Types of Accounts

- a. Full Access
 - i. Unrestricted access to library materials.
 1. Full Access is the default account type for adults aged 18 and over
- b. Minor Full Access
 - i. Full access card for those under 18 years of age
 1. Provides full borrowing privileges except for special collections designated by the director as restricted due to reasons including high historical or monetary value
 2. Restricted 1 is the default account type for all patrons under the age of 18
 3. Restricted 1 cards will revert to Full Access accounts upon proof (picture ID) that the cardholder has turned 18
- c. Restricted
 - i. Same borrowing privileges as Minor Full Access with additional restrictions for DVDs, Blu-Rays, and Video Games.
 1. Parents may select a Restricted account for their minor (under 18 years of age) children. See Library Card Registration for minors above.

1. Restricted cards will revert to Full Access accounts upon proof (picture ID) that the cardholder has turned 18.
- d. Homebound
- i. Unrestricted access to library materials.
 1. The Homebound designation is made for patrons utilizing the library's homebound services and is made for statistical purposes only; loan rules are consistent with Full Access accounts.
- e. Educator Cards
- i. Preschool thru High School educators living or working within Pickaway County may apply for an Educator card by supplying proof of educator status. Eligible educators include preschool through 12th grade teachers, day care providers, and homeschooler providers.
 1. Proof of educator status may include: an approval letter from a school district, paycheck stub, school badge, or childcare badge from the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services.
 2. Educator cards allow patrons the same loan rules as a Full Access card, but do not accrue fines for overdue materials. However, long overdue materials will be billed to educator cards in keeping with Full Access loan rules.
 3. Educator Cards are intended for use when borrowing materials for classroom or education purposes and not individual use.
 4. To receive an Educator Card, a patron must also have or register for a personal library account. The educator's personal library card must be in good standing to use the Educator Card. Fines or fees blocking the use of an educator's personal library card will also block the use of the Educator Card.
 5. Educator Cards are issued for one-year periods.
 6. Borrowers whose fees exceed the fine threshold or who have long overdue items on their personal card or educator card may not re-register until the fees have been reduced below the threshold and/or long overdue materials have been returned or the cost of their replacement paid.
- f. School Cards
- i. Pickaway County Library believes a library card is an important tool for students. Any student under the age of 18 enrolled in a Pickaway County public school district in K-12th grade who does not have a library card is eligible to be signed up for a School Card.
 1. School cards are limited to 2 print items at a time.
 2. Parents or guardians are not financially responsible for School Card accounts. However, an existing School Card account must be in good standing in order for a parent or guardian to register a minor for a library card.
 3. School Cards expire on the cardholder's 18th birthday.
- g. Additional Account Types
- i. The library is a member of the Central Library Consortium, which includes sharing cards with other member libraries. Additional card types will be treated as Full Access cards or assigned loan rules as deemed appropriate by the director.

IV. Library Card Use

- a. Cards that have been inactive for a period of 5 years AND have fines below the fine threshold for checkout will be purged from the library system on an annual basis.
- b. An address check will be added to library cards every 3 years to ensure that the library maintains current registration information for cardholder, pursuant to the Ohio Revised Code.

- c. Borrowing privileges may be suspended for issues including but not limited to: exceeding the fine threshold, failure to return materials, and/or failure to care for loaned materials in a way that makes them available for further use. In these cases the library will work with the patron to remedy the issue and reinstate privileges.
- d. Patrons are required to report the loss or theft of library cards promptly. The cardholder is not automatically excused from liability for any materials charged to the card before the card is reported lost or stolen.
 - i. When a card is reported lost or stolen, staff will block the reported card to prevent further checkouts and will issue a new card upon verification of the patron's ID.

V. Loan Rules

- a. Loan periods are intended to allow materials to be utilized by the greatest number of library patrons. Special loan rules may be enacted by the director for subsections of the library collection or for special card types outside Full Access. Patrons will be notified of due dates when checking out materials via printed slip, emailed receipt, on screen notification, or in person.

VI. Renewals

- a. Generally, materials are eligible for 3 renewals unless on reserve for another patron. However, materials belonging to other consortium member libraries are eligible for the number of renewals set by that library.
 - i. Special loan rules enacted by the director for subsections of the collection may also set different renewal criteria for those items.

VII. Reserves

- a. Generally, patrons may place up to 100 reserves at any one time.
 - i. To allow materials to be utilized by the greatest number of library patrons, limits on the number of reserves a patron may place on materials within a subsection of the collection (e.g., movies) may be determined by the director.

2.6.2. Fees and Collection Agencies

Policy Effective Date: 9/1/2019

Fees are intended to help recoup some of the cost of providing associated library services. Fees may be reduced or waived by the director or their authorized staff if warranted by professional judgement.

IV. Fees

- i. Once an item is 30 days overdue, the item is considered lost and the patron will be charged the retail cost of the item as documented in the item's record in the library's integrated library system (ILS).

- ii. Patrons may self-report an item as lost.

 - i. Notary Publics can notarize a statement by an individual that a photocopy is indeed a copy of the original document in question.

III. Library staff performing notary service on behalf of the library reserve the right to refuse notarizing documents for any legal reason.

2.7.1. Materials Selection Policy

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

The library seeks to provide access to a broad and balanced collection that reflects the ideal that public libraries have a professional responsibility to be inclusive, not exclusive, in selecting materials for the library collection. The library may provide access to materials even if such materials offend a library staff member or some members of the community. Selection and retention decisions are made to support the mission and vision of the library. This policy is intended to guide staff in managing the library's resources to meet the needs and wants of the community. It shall not overrule or otherwise inhibit the professional judgement of trained library staff.

I. Selection

- a. The inclusion of any material in the library collection does not signify the endorsement or approval of said material by the library staff, administration, or the Board of Trustees. Because its ability to purchase and store materials is limited by both budgetary restrictions and physical space, the library has established criteria for the addition and retention of library materials. These criteria may be applied to all formats and include, but are not limited to:
 - i. Relevance to the library's vision, mission, goals, and to the community
 - ii. Educational significance
 - iii. Recommendations by professionals
 - iv. Availability of material to purchase from the library's regularly used vendors
 - v. Availability of material in the collections of libraries within the consortium
 - vi. Timeliness and importance for contemporary society
 - vii. Suitability of subject and method of presentation for intended audience
 - viii. Relationship to existing collection and other media in the same subject field
 - ix. Accuracy as reviewed by professional experts
 - x. Representative expression of controversial or minority points of view
 - xi. Suitability of physical form to library use; the library refrains from purchasing most text books unless demand and physical formatting of material meets the needs of the general public
 - xii. Cost and availability of funds
- b. An item will not be added to or barred from the collection solely because of:
 - i. An author's race, religion, nationality, sexual orientation, or political/social views
 - ii. A work's depictions or descriptions of violence or sexual activity
 - iii. A work's controversial content
 - iv. An author or work's endorsement or disapproval by any individual or community group
- c. Selecting librarians rely on many professional tools for selection including library and publisher journals, reviews, etc. as guides for inclusion of materials into the collection under the above guidelines.

II. Collection Maintenance

- a. The library strives to maintain a collection that is current, in good condition, well used, and which relates to the needs and interests of the community. Materials which are damaged, outdated, circulate less than similar materials in the collection, do not fit in available physical space, or are otherwise deemed to no longer meet the selection criteria by professional staff are subject to discard.

III. Gifts

- a. See 2.7.2 Gifts and Donations
- b. Acceptance of donated books or other materials does not imply materials will be added to the library collection. The library reserves the right to handle or dispose of donated materials in the best interest of the institution. Materials to be added to the collection must meet the library's selection criteria.

IV. Controversial Content

- a. The responsibility for monitoring a child's reading, listening and viewing rests with the child's parent or legal guardian. Selection of materials for the library is not restricted by the possibility that children may obtain materials that their parents or guardians consider inappropriate.
- b. Public libraries provide the vital opportunity to study various sides of an issue by obtaining materials containing opposing views on controversial topics, including those of an unorthodox and/or unpopular nature. Materials that meet the selection guidelines will not be removed from the collection nor will materials lacking these qualities be added because of pressure from groups or individuals.
- c. The library does not mark, label, or identify materials to show approval or disapproval of contents.

V. Request for Reconsideration

- a. Individuals may request reconsideration of a decision to select library material by submitting a written Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials form, available from any staff member.
- b. When a request for review is received, the administration will respond in writing and provide an explanation of the criteria used in selecting the item in question. Any appeal of this response will be referred to the library Board. The complainant will be informed in writing of the library's Board of Trustees decision as soon as possible after the next Board meeting is held. The final responsibility for materials removal resides with the Board of Trustees. The title under consideration will remain in the collection throughout the process to support the freedom of other patrons to read, view, or listen.

2.7.2. Gifts and Donations

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

The library is grateful and appreciative of any organization or private citizen that wishes to support the library through contributions of book or non-book materials for library collections, contributions of appropriate gifts that will enhance the library's physical environments, and bequests, trusts, or donations of monetary or other assets for library purposes.

- I. Acceptance of donated books or other materials does not imply materials will be added to the library collection. The library reserves the right to handle or dispose of donated materials in the best interest of the institution. Donations intended to be added to the collection must meet the library's selection criteria.
- II. Materials and equipment given to, and accepted by, the library shall become the sole property of the library to be managed as the director or their designee deems appropriate, including disposal or donation to the Friends of the Pickaway County District Public Library.
- III. The library is unable to furnish appraisals of donated items.
- IV. Patrons or organizations who wish to donate gifts of a more specific nature, such as works of art, furniture, equipment, special collections, and real property, shall be referred to the director who, in consultation with the Board of Trustees, will determine whether or how to accept said gift; items so purchased become the property of the library and may be disposed of accordingly.
- V. The organization reserves the right to refuse any donation.

2.8.1. Video Monitoring

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

Selected areas of the library are equipped with video cameras for the protection and safety of patrons, staff, volunteers, assets and property; to identify persons who may be violating the library's Patron Conduct Policy; and to provide law enforcement assistance in prosecuting criminal activity. A sign is posted at each public entrance informing the public that security cameras are in use. Lack of signage does not indicate a reasonable expectation of privacy.

I. Location

- a. Reasonable efforts are made to safeguard the privacy of all persons. The security cameras are positioned to record only those areas specified by the director or their designee, and will complement other measures to maintain a safe and secure environment, in compliance with applicable law and library policies. Only the director and designated personnel are authorized to access the recorded archival data in pursuit of incidents of apparent criminal activity, litigation, or violation of the Patron Code of Conduct. Authorized staff may observe cameras in real-time to monitor for safety, security, and policy compliance.

- b. Live and/or recorded data shall not be used or disclosed, other than as specifically authorized by this policy.
- c. Because of confidentiality/privacy issues, this policy prohibits the general public from viewing security-camera footage that contains patron information. If the library receives a request from a member of the general public to inspect security-camera footage which contains patron information, the request will be declined and, where appropriate, the requestor will be advised to file a police complaint.
- d. The library reserves the right to release video-surveillance recordings and images to law-enforcement personnel acting within the scope of their official duties who are investigating suspected criminal activity on library property or, in exigent circumstances, other matters involving public safety. An exigent circumstance is defined as an emergency situation requiring swift action to prevent imminent danger to life or serious damage to property, or to forestall the imminent escape of a suspect, or destruction of evidence. Video surveillance records and images may also be released in response to a subpoena, search warrant, or court order. No release of video recordings or images will occur without prior authorization by the director or their designee consistent with this policy.

IV. Retention of Digital Images

2.10.1. Photography or Video Recording on Library Property

Policy Effective Date: 3/8/2020

Photography or video recording in the library is generally permitted if it is for library promotion, a student project, or for strictly personal use. To protect the rights of individual patrons and to reduce distractions, photographing and video recording in library properties is restricted as follows:

- I. Under no circumstances may the public, members of the media, or library staff take photographs or record video inside library properties without the express permission of any library patron, the library patron's legal guardian in the case of a minor, or the staff member who would be prominently included within the composition.
- II. Photography or video recording inside library properties for commercial purposes is not permitted without approval by the director; such approval must be requested in advance.

2.11.1. Library Programs

Policy Effective Date: 1/12/2024

Pickaway County Library (PCL) programs are designed to engage patrons and further the library's mission while promoting library services and collections. PCL programs may be led by PCL staff, outside performers, or through co-sponsorships with community providers. Programming is an integral component of library service that:

- a. Expands the library's role as a community resource
- b. Introduces patrons and non-users to library resources
- c. Provides entertainment
- d. Provides opportunities for lifelong learning
- e. Expands the visibility of the library

PCL seeks to develop programs that provide a range of coverage in perspectives, presenters, audience, and subject matter. Additionally, library staff use many criteria when making decisions about program topics, speakers, and accompanying resources, including:

- a. Community needs and interests
- b. Relation to library collections, resources, services, and events
- c. Connections to other community programs, exhibits, or events
- d. Historical or educational significance
- e. Treatment of content for intended audience
- f. Presenter expertise and/or public performance experience
- g. Availability of resources to present program and speakers
- h. Popular appeal

Library-sponsored speakers are required to have some expertise, credentials, or credibility on the topic they are discussing. Staff who present programs do so as part of their regular job and are not hired as outside contractors for programming. A library staff member or parents/caregivers will be present during youth programs if the presenter is not a library staff member.

The library may partner with local businesses and sponsor programs to educate the public about these businesses. However, programs of a purely commercial nature or those designed for the solicitation of business will not be approved or offered by the library. Examples of programs that would be considered of a commercial nature include, but are not limited to, presentations offered for free but with the intention of soliciting future business.

Programs that support or oppose any political candidate or ballot measure will not be approved or offered by the library. However, educational programs such as candidate forums that include invitations to all recognized candidates may be offered.

Programs will not be approved or offered that endorse or oppose a specific religion. Library programs may address religious themes to educate or inform, but not to promote, observe, or proselytize a particular religious conviction. Holiday programs may be offered for the entertainment of library patrons.

2.11.2. Exhibits and Displays

Policy Effective Date: 1/12/2024

Pickaway County Library (PCL) provides displays and exhibits throughout all library locations to highlight new materials, reintroduce existing collections, and simulate interest in library resources, services, and programs.

Except for the display case in the Main Library vestibule (see below), displays are planned, organized, and/or implemented by library staff. PCL staff uses the following criteria in making decisions about display topics, materials, and accompanying resources:

- a. Community needs and interests.
- b. Suitable format and style for intended audience. (All materials are reviewed for age-appropriateness as determined by the publisher of the materials.)
- c. Availability of display or exhibit space.
- d. Historical or educational significance.
- e. Appropriateness to seasonal events or holidays.
- f. Relation to current events.
- g. Connection to other community, state, or national programs, exhibitions, or events.
- h. Relation to library collections, resources, exhibits, and programs.

PCL will strive to include a wide spectrum of opinions and viewpoints in Library-initiated displays and exhibits, as well as offer displays and exhibits that appeal to a wide range of ages, interests, and information needs. Library-initiated displays and exhibits should not exclude topics, books, media, and other resources solely because they may be considered controversial.

Patron Displays

PCL provides a space in the Main Library vestibule for displays of an educational, cultural, civic, or recreational nature. This space may not be used for commercial, political, or religious purposes. PCL will have the final decision on the content and arrangement of all displays in this space. PCL assumes no liability for items displayed or exhibited, and the exhibitor agrees to hold harmless and fully indemnify the library in the event of damage or loss. Application is made on a first-come, first-served basis. Please inquire at the Circulation Desk; requests will be forwarded to the Community Relations Manager for consideration. Exhibitors are to comply with dates specified for setting up and taking down displays/exhibits.

Concerns

PCL welcomes the expression of opinions from patrons concerning programming or displays. In this case, the patron should first discuss his/her/their concerns about the program or display with a library staff member. If, following the discussion, the patron still wishes the library to reconsider the program or display, he/she/they should submit a written Request for Reconsideration Form, which can be obtained from a library staff member. Administration will respond and provide criteria used in development of the program or display in question. Any appeal to this response will be referred to the PCL Board of Trustees.

Staff will use professional judgment in evaluating the security risk to the library's network when determining if a site can be unblocked; staff are instructed to err on the side of network security to maintain a safe and stable network environment for all patrons.
- b. Network filters are inexact and often ineffective. Parents/guardians of minor children are ultimately responsible for overseeing their child's use of the Internet. Library internet filtering in no way guarantees that offensive content will be inaccessible.

A full-time staff member in the Public Service department shall oversee the recruitment, use, and recognition of volunteers. Each department that uses volunteers shall designate a Volunteer Supervisor to train and supervise volunteers.

Volunteers must complete a Volunteer Application, which will be reviewed by PCL staff, before being accepted as a volunteer. Volunteers who wish to work as volunteers on an ongoing basis may be interviewed, either in person or via telephone.

A criminal background check will be completed for volunteers who are 18 years old and above. Depending upon funding, the applicant may be responsible to pay the cost of the screening. If the background check discloses any misrepresentation on the volunteer application or any information indicating the individual is not suited to volunteer with PCL, the applicant will be refused.

Volunteers must be at least 14 years old. Exceptions may be made at the discretion of the Director. Minor children may only work as volunteers with the consent of a parent or legal guardian. Volunteer activities and hours for volunteers 14-17 years of age will follow the same rules and guidelines set forth by ORC Chapter 4109: Employment of Minors.

PCL is generally unable to accommodate court-ordered community service.

Volunteers supplement the efforts of paid library staff in meeting demands for quality public service. Volunteers will not be used to replace or reduce the number of paid staff. Additionally, volunteers may not perform duties that result in paid staff having an insufficient workload.

Volunteers may work on a regular basis or for special projects or events, depending on the needs of PCL. Training and directions will be given for each task that a volunteer may carry out. Failure to follow instructions may result in dismissal from volunteer tasks.

Volunteers are recognized by the public as representatives of PCL and shall be guided by the same work and behavior code as employees.

Volunteers shall wear identification badges when working for PCL.

Volunteers working in the library have liability coverage for property damage and/or bodily injury to others which results from the performance of their volunteer duties, and to themselves, if the library is negligent. Volunteers work under an at-will status and may be discharged with or without cause or advance notice. Volunteers must notify PCL staff if they are unable to fulfill their duties.

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

The library is an at-will employer. This means that employment for every employee may be terminated with or without cause and with or without notice. Nothing in the library's policies creates an employment contract or shall limit the right of the library to terminate employment at will.

Unless authorized by a written agreement signed by the President of the Board, no employee or other representative of the library has the authority to enter into any agreement for employment for a specified period of time in a manner that nullifies the library's status as an at-will employer.

This policy cannot be modified by any statements contained in this or any other policy manuals, procedure manuals or handbooks, employment applications, library recruiting materials, library memorandums, or other materials provided to employees in connection with their employment. None of these documents, whether individually or combined, shall create an implicit or expressed contract of employment for a definite period.

3.2.1. Ethics of Librarianship

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

ALA Statement on Professional Ethics, 1995:

As members of the American Library Association, we recognize the importance of codifying and making known to the profession and to the general public the ethical principles that guide the work of librarians, other professionals providing information services, library trustees and library staffs.

Ethical dilemmas occur when values are in conflict. The American Library Association Code of Ethics states the values to which we are committed, and embodies the ethical responsibilities of the profession in this changing information environment.

We significantly influence or control the selection, organization, preservation, and dissemination of information. In a political system grounded in an informed citizenry, we are members of a profession explicitly committed to intellectual freedom and the freedom of access to information. We have a special obligation to ensure the free flow of information and ideas to present and future generations.

The principles of this Code are expressed in broad statements to guide ethical decision making. These statements provide a framework; they cannot and do not dictate conduct to cover particular situations.

CODE OF ETHICS

- I. We must provide the highest level of service to all library users through appropriate and usefully organized collections, equitable and service policies, equitable access; and accurate, unbiased, and courteous responses to all requests for assistance.
- II. We uphold the principles of intellectual freedom and resist all efforts to censor library materials.
- III. We protect each library user's right to privacy and confidentiality with respect to information sought or received and resources consulted, borrowed, acquired or transmitted.
- IV. We recognize and respect intellectual property rights.
- V. We treat co-workers and other colleagues with respect, fairness and good faith, and advocate conditions of employment that safeguard the rights and welfare of all employees of our institutions.
- VI. We do not advance private interests at the expense of library users, colleagues, or our employing institution.
- VII. We distinguish between our personal convictions and professional duties and do not allow our personal beliefs to interfere with fair representation of the aims of our institutions or the provision of access to their information resources.
- VIII. We strive for excellence in the profession by maintaining and enhancing our own knowledge and skills, by encouraging the professional development of co-workers, and by fostering the aspirations of potential members of the profession.

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

3.5.1. Drug-Free Workplace

Policy Effective Date: 5/1/2018

To provide a safe and productive work environment for all employees and to eliminate inherent risks to the organization and the public, all staff members are expected to report for work and remain at work in condition to perform assigned duties free from the effects of alcohol and drugs as outlined in this policy.

- I. The manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, use or being under the influence of alcohol, drugs or other controlled substance is strictly prohibited during working hours at any location where library employees are conducting business. Also prohibited is the illegal use of legal substances. Any involvement with alcohol/drugs that adversely affects the work environment or the library will not be tolerated.
- II. Medical marijuana use as authorized by state law is not exempted from the library's drug and alcohol free workplace policy and constitutes a violation of this policy.
- III. In order to further the library's objective of maintaining a safe, healthful, and drug-free workplace, the library may require an employee to submit to a urine and/or blood test if there is reasonable suspicion to believe that an employee is under the influence of a controlled substance or alcohol. Refusal to submit to a drug or alcohol test and/or to release the results of the same shall be considered insubordination and will be cause for disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.
- IV. An employee who is under the influence of drugs or alcohol may forfeit their right to obtain workers compensation benefits. The law establishes a rebuttable presumption that if an injured worker tests positive for the use of drugs or alcohol, the worker will have to prove the use of drugs or alcohol did not cause the accident. A refusal to test for the use of drugs or alcohol will also establish the presumption. Employees who are involved with a workplace accident may be required to undergo drug and/or alcohol testing in accordance with this policy.
- V. Violation of this policy, including use of medical marijuana, shall be cause for disciplinary action up to and including termination, enrollment and completion of an approved drug or alcohol rehabilitation program, or both. Failure to successfully complete the rehabilitation program shall lead to immediate termination of employment.

3.6.1. Classification and Salary

Policy Effective Date: 1/9/2022

I. Salary

II. Classification

- a. Full-Time vs Part Time
 - i. Full-time employees are defined as working 37 or more hours per week.
- b. Exempt vs Non-Exempt
 - i. Non-Exempt
 1. Employees who are not exempt from the overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and whose actual hours worked are more than 40 per workweek are entitled to be compensated for the extra hours worked.
 - ii. Exempt
 1. Salaried employees who meet FLSA exemption standards are ineligible for overtime payment.
 2. For purposes of calculating payroll and leave accumulations, full time salaried employees will have compensation expressed as an hourly rate.

III. Overtime

- a. All non-exempt staff members who work more than their appointed hours in a given week must have extra time approved in advance.
 1. Compensation for extra hours up to 40 hours in a given week shall be paid at the employee's regular hourly rate.
 2. Extra hours over 40 hours in a given week (overtime) shall be paid at one and one-half times the employee's regular hourly salary for time worked over the 40-hour threshold in a pay week.
 3. Paid leave (including but not limited to holiday, vacation, sick, or personal days) used during any workweek is not counted toward the total 40 hours required to qualify for overtime pay.
 4. Failure to receive advance permission for additional work hours does not result in non-payment of extra time and/or overtime, but may result in disciplinary action.

IV. Position Descriptions

- a. All employees are appointed to a position title at the time of hire, promotion, demotion, or transfer. This position correlates with a designated position description. Position descriptions:
 - i. Designate Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) status as exempt or non-exempt employees
 - ii. List essential position duties and expectations

- iii. Identify the pay range for the position in question.
- b. All employees shall sign their position description at the time of hire, promotion, demotion, or transfer, or when position description changes are made.

3.6.2. Payroll and Payroll Deductions

- b. Paydays shall be on the Friday following the end of the pay cycle, but are subject to change due to bank and library holidays and unforeseen emergencies.
- c. Pay advances are not permitted.
- d. Questions about paychecks should be directed to the fiscal office.
- e. Employees are responsible for providing and maintaining up to date address information for the fiscal officer. It is the responsibility of the employee, not the fiscal office or library, to maintain up to date address information for tax withholding purposes.

III. Direct Deposit

- a. All employees' wages shall be dispersed through mandatory direct deposit.
- b. Employees must complete a direct deposit authorization form, accompanied by either a voided personal check for a checking account or documentation from their financial institution for a savings account that verifies the savings account number and routing number.

- e. Employees will have detailed payroll information (pay stubs) emailed to their selected email address as part of the payroll process.

IV. Payroll Deductions

- a. Payroll deductions are made from an employee's paycheck as required by law or employee benefit plans.
- b. Ohio Public Employees Retirement System (OPERS)
 - i. State law requires that all employees contribute to OPERS. The library also contributes an additional percentage of the employee's gross pay to the OPERS fund as mandated by state law. These percentages may change at the direction of the OPERS Board of Directors.
 - ii. Salary Reduction Method: The library has adopted an OPERS pick-up plan. This plan defers federal and state income tax until withdrawal or retirement. An employee's gross pay is reduced by an amount equal to his/her portion of the required contribution to the retirement fund. The library then deducts federal and state taxes from the reduced amount.

- c. Income Taxes
 - i. Federal, state, municipal and school taxes will be withheld as required by law. An employee must complete a withholding tax form W-4 and Ohio tax form IT-4 at the time of initial employment and keep the fiscal officer informed of any change in exemptions.
- d. Medicare Tax
 - i. Each employee will have a percentage of their gross earnings deducted for Medicare taxes in the amount mandated by the Federal Government.
- e. Medical, Dental, and Vision Insurance
 - i. An employee who is enrolled in the library group insurance plans will have any premium copayment deducted from his/her paycheck on the first and second biweekly payroll each month. All insurance payroll deductions are to be withheld prior to the month of actual insurance coverage.
- f. Deferred Compensation
 - i. An employee may choose to have a portion of income deposited into the Ohio Deferred Compensation Program (ODCP). Law defines the limit for deferred compensation. The ODCP exists and serves in addition to any retirement, pension, or benefit system established for the benefit of library employees. No deferral of income under the ODCP will affect a reduction of any retirement, pension, or other benefit provided by law.
- g. Garnishments
 - i. Court ordered garnishments, including child support payments, will be withheld, as required by law.

3.7.1. Benefits

Policy Effective Date: 1/9/2022

Unless specified by Board action for a given coverage period, the library will contribute the library share portion of a single coverage policy premium towards coverage, and additional expense for family coverage is made at employee cost.
- ii. The library shall pay 50% of the single coverage premium for health insurance for part-time employees with appointed position hours of 30 or more hours yet less than 37 hours per week.
 1. Part-time staff members who are appointed less than 30 hours per week may be temporarily offered additional hours, as needed by the library, due to staffing shortages. Additional hours over 30 per week do not make the employee eligible for insurance benefits unless the employee averages 30 or more hours worked per week during each pay period for 3 consecutive pay periods.
- iii. Part-time employees working 20 or more hours yet less than 37 hours per week may participate in dental and optical insurance programs at their own cost.

b. Enrollment

In addition, employees with a new dependent as a result of marriage, birth, or adoption may be able to enroll, provided that completion and submission of all required forms occurs within 30 days after the marriage, birth, or adoption. Otherwise, employees who decline may enroll during open enrollment.

An employee will be paid for one-fourth of accrued but unused sick leave, calculated at his or her current rate of pay, not to exceed 240 hours.
 - i.
